Timber Wealth.

The old adage that "figures cannot lie" is accepted as an axiomatic truth, yet the same figures convey a very indefinite idea of the magnitude of the timber supply of Arkansas. When at lowest estimate made on the base of the lowest minimum supply, made by experts, are reduced to board measure, the mind staggers before the formidable array of numerals. Two hundred and fifty billions of feet is easily written, yet not so easily grasped by the average mentality. Of this 80,000,000,000 are merchantable pine, and the balance, 170,000,000,000 feet, are hard wood. The leading market varieties are chiefly pine, cypress, red, white and post oak, gum and ash. The immense stretches of hickory, walnut and cherry have only been culled on lands contiguous to the streams, while millions of acres remain without an outlet and untouched. If capital is shrewd enough to come here, traverse the lines of the projected railroads and purchase sections abounding in these woods adjacent thereto, it will have a veritable bonanza. The whole number of saw mills in Arkansas to-day are not cutting an amount of timber equal to the annual growth. Manufacturers of the hundred and one articles of wood will find here an ample and cheap supply, combined with a good home market. Situated as Arkansas is, just at the eastern limit of the vast treeless yet fertile plains, extending to the Rocky Mountains, a near and remunerative market is positive. Every settler in adjacent states means a new customer.

Spongy Bones.

A farmer assailed an editor very bitterly because of some article in his paper against so much corn feeding: "You are making war on the great staple of our country, our main stand-by." "Not war against corn, but against the abuse of it," was the reply.

"I don't believe in your theory. Why, the finest horse that ever I had would eat nothing else. He was the heartiest, biggest horse I ever saw, would eat nothing but corn—couldn't get enough of it apparently—was always ready for the largest feed of it, so your theory won't stand."

"Can't help it," said the editor. "If your horse was as large and as heavy as you say, and you fed him that way, the wonder to me is that his legs did not break when he stood on them."

"They did, square, how is that? What do you mean? Yes, one of his legs broke square off one day as he stood in his stall," said the farmer.

"That is just what I was trying to beat in your coggin. Corn affords little or no bone making matter, and as the bones are constantly wearing away, growing off and being absorbed, new bone matter must be secreted from the food."

"Well I declare! that gets me. I swan! I examined that horse's carcass and his bones was all like honey comb or sponge all full of cells."

The foregoing is literally correct.

about eight miles south of Oroville, three miles from Gridley, and two miles from Biggs, on the Oregon and California Railroad, and seventy-three miles from Sacramento. There are growing on the lands white oak trees, some of which are thirty-five feet in circumference. The soil is a rich, sandy loam, and cannot be surpassed in productiveness. Citrus and all kinds of delicious fruits ripen here to perfection. Rio Bonito Colony Lands are a garden spot, and are certain to be the most popular for homes of any to be

This section of Butte County is one of the best in California for fruit culture. Such land as this, if set out to fruits, would, at the end of three years, be estimated, be worth at least $500 per acre. At this rate, twenty acres in fruit within three years would be worth $10,000. The managers will take charge of the setting out of fruit trees for purchasers of land, and at the actual cost of doing the same.

The land is now for sale in tracts to suit at $100 per acre, on easy terms—one-third cash; balance in one, two and three years at eight per cent per annum.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1888

GALLANT Phil Sheridan has, no doubt, done a wise thing in declaring that he would decline to accept the nomination for the Presidency should that honor be tendered him. He is a soldier, not a statesman. As head of the army he knows where he stands. He is the nation's hero now. Before he reached the White House he would find that his gallant ride was a fiction, that he had robbed a missionary box at West Point, possibly plotted with the rebels to surrender Washington. Better that the name of Phil Sheridan should rest on fighting laurels. It is General not President Grant whose memory we delight to honor. General Sheridan be it to the end. He was a captain when the war began, and he is now Commander-in-Chief of all the armies of a nation of fifty millions of people. He won his way to this place by fighting, not by intrigue; he holds it for service, not by favor. He knows his duties, he is fond of them, and is honored by the nation for just what he is. To give up such a place for four years of the gilded misery of the presidential office—to see his glories shaded by the rivalries and disappointments of party strife—could only end in bitterness. Sherry's head is level. We notice, by the way, that nobody has any doubt what he means when he says No. Party men do not jump up to say that his refusal is a formality and that he wants to be urged.

THE Salt Lake Tribune is a little weary of the slow progress being made by the proprietors of the Salt Lake and Los Angeles railroad in pushing that enterprise. The time fixed upon for a beginning is up, but there is not a sign of progress discernible. No one desires to hurry the promoters, though public interest makes it desirable that this road be pushed across the desert to the paying points in western Utah and eastern Nevada as soon as possible. The people believe that with the work fairly begun and heartily prosecuted forward, the boom it will inaugurate cannot grow fast enough to outrun itself; that in building that road in a way to make Salt Lake its chief western depot, no power on earth can arrest the onward sweep of the city to the position of the most beautiful and prosperous spot between the two seas. All this the citizens of Salt Lake seriously believe, and therefore it is no wonder they are anxious to have the construction of the road begun at once and pressed forward with vigor.

The average Democratic Congressman from the border states is always considered an object of legitimate fun. Congressman Martin of Texas, who has persistently denied that he blew out the gas in his hotel room on reaching Washington, is again in trouble. Since he found an abode of his own at the Capital he has had great difficulty in remembering the number of his house. A number of times he entered houses in which he was looked upon as an intruder. He finally tied a piece of red flannel to his door-knob. Some jocular Congressman, who knew the meaning of the red signal, removed Martin's landmark and placed it on the door-knob of a house inhabited by a staid and elderly maiden. She is now anxious to know what Mr. Martin meant by entering her house without ringing the bell.

CIVIL war of a very bad kind is evidently fairly on foot in Ireland. What the reports call "outrages" are taking a lively start. These outrages are the response of the people to the persecutions that have recently been kept up in the name of the law. If the law declares ordinary frosts of the people to be crimes, and applies the whole machinery of the state to follow them up, and imprisons them for using strong language only, the people will eventually strike back with any weapon they can reach, and fires, assaults and explosions are likely to be plentiful enough, unless human nature is changed from what it was.

LET us thank our stars that cyclones of the Illinois variety leave us severely alone. To wake in the morning and find our courthouse in Orin county would scarcely contribute either to our present or eternal happiness.

Charles J. Rawson has been appointed by Acting Governor Davis Commissioner of Deeds for Nevada, to reside at Worcester, Mass.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

[PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

A DEFINITE WITHDRAWAL.

Mr. Blaine Again Declines to Run for the Presidency.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—To-morrow's World will contain a three-column interview with Blaine, cabled from Florence. Blaine distinctly asserted that under no circumstances whatever would he allow his name to be used in connection with the next presidential nomination. He insists on the sincerity of his withdrawal, and asserts that he had made up his mind thereto long ago. He considers, first, that any man whose name has been associated with defeat in a presidential campaign owes it to his party not to allow himself to be renominated, and, secondly, that he is unequal to facing the fatigue, worry and excitement of another campaign, all the more as he should feel himself bound to work as hard as on the previous occasion. Mrs. Blaine and other members of his family are most emphatic in their approval of his withdrawal, which is definitive and neither hasty nor recent in its decision. Mr. Blaine will not return from Europe until June, and until after the Republican convention. He declines to express himself on the subject of the Republican candidates in the field, but asserts that he did not retire in favor of any particular one of them. He is convinced of Republican victory, basing his conviction in particular on the tariff question. Mr. Blaine said in conclusion: "You have no idea what relief it is to me to think that I am now out of the canvass, and that when I come back to New York in the summer I shall not come back to face the after-reception and to enter into the turmoil and excitement of a political canvass. I can now come back quietly, after the convention has decided the result, and enjoy life in my own way, free, I hope, from further criticism or comment."

A RAILROAD ROW.

Over 1000 Engineers and Firemen Strike on the Burlington Road.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Owing to the strike on the Burlington railroad, three suburban trains were the only ones to come in on that road up to 10:30 o'clock this morning, and the engines of these were in charge of officials of the road only. The only train to leave the depot up to 11 o'clock was the fast mail which departed at 3 o'clock, manned by an engineer and fireman from the Brotherhood.

General Manager Stone said this morning that all of the 1,000 engineers and firemen employed by the road struck with the single exception of an engineer near Galesburg. The Superintendent's office this morning was crowded with applicants for the vacant positions. They were put through an examination, and before 11 o'clock about fifty applicants had been accepted and sent to the yards. The company has not yet attempted to move any freight trains, but they will start their noon passenger train for Missouri river points at the usual time. No trouble is anticipated from trainmen.

SCARS TO THE FRONT. READING, Feb. 27.—A number of engineers, who lost their positions during the recent strike on the Reading railroad, started for Chicago this morning to take the places of the striking engineers on the Burlington railroad. There were one hundred and seventy engineers and the same number of firemen in the party.

Guatemalans Invading Mexico. CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—A special from Guaymas, Mexico, says: Great excitement prevails here over the news that the Mexican government has chartered the steamer Alajandro to take troops from Mazatlan to San Benito, where Guatemalan insurgents are invading Mexican soil. The sloops of war, Democrita, Mexico and Jaurez, will also take troops from Acapulco and other ports.

Mill's Tariff Bill. WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Mill's tariff bill has been completed practically and will be laid before the full committee on Ways and Means to-morrow. It is expected that the bill will be reported to the House after the meeting to-morrow morning, ordered printed and resubmitted to the committee. The final vote on the House will likely be made within a week or ten days thereafter.

Buried Under an Avalanche. LONDON, Feb. 27.—The village of Valtorta, in the north of Italy, has been half buried by an avalanche. Many houses were wrecked and their occupants buried in the ruins. Troops from Bergamo have arrived to aid in disinterring the buried. Twenty-three corpses have been recovered. Several persons have been extricated alive, though more or less injured.

Preparing for War. BUCHAREST, Feb. 27.—It is reported that Russian garrisons on the Prussian frontier have been reinforced in the last fortnight by several brigades, which are on a war footing. There are four cavalry regiments at Prinsow which directly menace Craoow.

It is a good rule to accept only such medicines as are known to be worthy of confidence. It has been the experience of thousands of years that Cherry & Co. is the best medicine ever used for throat and lung diseases.

The following is related of a popular divine in conversation with one of his parishioners, who was fearfully addicted to profanity, and at the same time one of those conceited fellows who are apt to allude to themselves as "plain, blunt men." ## LASSEN COUNTY.

An Interesting Letter from That Section of California.

SUSANVILLE, Feb. 23, 1888.

EDITOR GAZETTE—After a season of real winter weather, some of which was noted for its unprecedented coldness, spring, real spring weather, has put in its appearance, relieving the valleys of their covering of snow, thereby hurrying up the farmers a month at least ahead of former seasons. What the outcome of this premature warm weather will be it is hard to tell. One thing is certain, if continued much longer the buds will soon be so far advanced that a few cold nights will destroy the entire fruit crop. The opinion now prevails that most of the fruit buds of the peach and cherry trees were killed during the winter. Many vegetables, especially potatoes, are found to be frozen, but there was a large crop last season, so that nothing like scarcity is feared.

While other counties of the state have been booming their various localities, this county has seen fit to plod along its old-fashioned way, each one attending to his own affairs, regardless of the outside world; but now this state of things bids fair to be changed, for subscriptions are being solicited for the purpose of forming a fund to advertise extensively the resources and desirability of the lands of the county, that some of the tide of immigrants that are visiting this coast will be drawn this way. No doubt our distance from the railroad has deterred many from paying us a visit, but soon it is hoped this will be done away with, and the stream of the locomotive's whistle will be heard echoing among the surrounding hills.

When the facts are fully known regarding the fertility of our soil, and its adaptability to produce all kinds of grain and vegetables, as also the different kinds of grasses in profusion; while the hills surrounding the valleys afford an abundant range for stock, and also that nowhere on the coast can better apples and many other fruits be grown, all the above, combined with the cheapness of the land and the healthy climate, offer inducements that the stranger seeking a home that few other localities afford.

Another much needed enterprise is being started here and it is hoped will meet with success and push to a successful termination. This is nothing less than a telegraph line from Reno, via Susanville, and extending north to Alturas, Modoc county. I am told the initial steps have been taken, and hopes are entertained that the enterprise will be a success.

Speaking of enterprises, there is one long established that needs much reformation in its management. I have reference to the management of the mail between Reno and this place since the advent of the democratic administration. All are aware that Cleveland committed himself to civil service reform, and it is generally supposed that one of the requirements were that the candidates could spell at least, but from the way the mails have arrived here for many months it must be concluded that it takes from a week to ten days to spell Susanville; added to this annoyance is the fact that our mail goes off occasionally on an excursion to Plumas county. This seems to be one of the peculiarities of the present administration, even to going fishing on Decoration day. These eccentricities are annoying to the readers of daily papers, for a daily a week or two old is about as interesting reading as a last year's almanac.

Beats Cook-Fighting.

According to the Virginia Enterprise the Washoe and Pute Indians of Nevada have found out a new and congenial amusement. This is in pitting their squaws against one another in rough-and-tumble fights. In these fights no rules are observed; everything goes—hair-pulling, scratching, biting, gouging of eyes and kicking are as legitimate as a blow straight from the shoulder. When two robust young squaws have been stripped to breech-clouts the bucks squat about them in a ring and the battle and the betting begin. In a recent battle near Jack's valley, Smoke Creek Sam (a Plute) backed his squaw against the mahala of Big-Mouth Jim, a leading man among the Washoes. About $200 in silver and several ponies changed hands on the result. Smoke Creek Sam's squaw was the victor, and Sam won two ponies and over $30 in coin. The fight lasted nearly an hour, and when it ended the two squaws were covered with blood. Not much hair was left on the head of either. Big-Mouth Jim's mahala was dragged out of the ring with but little left of either ear, while Smoke Creek Sam's squaw had one eye hanging out on her cheek.

"Billy" Roberts Watched and Chained.

William Roberts, an old and esteemed resident of Reno, but for years past foreman of the Nevada Land and Cattle Company, has resigned his position, and will hereafter take life easy. The directors of the company appreciating his services desired to show it in a tangible way, and authorized T. D. Parkinson, the manager of the company, to procure the testimonial. Mr. Parkinson selected a magnificent gold watch and chain, and forwarded them to him from San Francisco. Mr. Roberts has many friends in Reno and other portions of the state, who will be pleased to learn that his long years of service in the company is appreciated, and that he is now about to enjoy a well-earned rest.

Everybody needs a spring medicine by Dr. J. C. Fryer. It is a combination of the best A. I. Iodine, Ye. Iodine and Salicylic Acid—used in the treatment of all kinds of skin diseases. It contains no opium. Price, 10 cents, sold by Wm. F. Fryer. All chemists and druggists will sell for the same price.

WILD HORSES OF NEVADA.

An News Item Which Will Astonish Our Stockmen.

The New York Sun of a recent date published the following: "Nevada horse-raisers and ranchmen on the Piche and White Pine ranges are complaining of the wild horses of that region. In the Shell-back mountains are bands of from 150 to 200 of these horses, each under the leadership of powerful stallions, and they make regular raids on the ranches and run off the horses of the ranchmen. A horse once gone is gone forever, the Nevada men say, for the wild horses are very cunning and wary, and will not let a man get within rifle shot of them. The nuisance became so great that last spring fifteen experienced horsemen and hunters started out with the object of killing off as many of the 'boss stallions' as possible. In a ten days' hunt they managed to kill just one horse. The wild horses of Nevada average about 800 pounds weight, and when caught are about the most ugly beast alive. But if they can be subdued and broken they make the most serviceable and hardy horses imaginable."

It is Reno's Turn.

The Eureka Sentinel of the 25th inst. has the following to say concerning the holding of the next Democratic state convention in Reno:

It has been the custom of the Democratic party to pass its state conventions around among the more eligible situated towns of the state. Had the policy been inaugurated it would have been quite as well to hold all conventions at the state capital. But the other theory has been adopted and is now a custom of the party. Proceeding upon this theory, it is now Reno's turn for the Democratic state convention. Reno has not been the scene of the convention since 1872. Since that time Virginia, Carson, Winnemucca, Eureka, Austin and Elko have all had the convention in the order in which they are named. By the alternate rule Reno must have the next one. Her hotel, hall, and other accommodations are as good as those of any other town in the state. Besides Washoe has an additional claim in the fact that she went Democratic last fall. But put everything aside, it is simply fair to locate the coming convention at Reno. If we were a member of the state central committee, under the circumstances, we should be compelled to vote for Reno first, last, and all the time.

A Party at the Eight-Mile House.

EDITOR GAZETTE—Allow me to note, through your columns, one of the most pleasant affairs of the season, in the shape of a surprise party, given to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Thompson and Miss Bessie Thompson, of the Eight-Mile House on the evening of the 25th inst. About 8 o'clock several teams drove up in front of the Eight-Mile House loaded with young folks. About the time they had been safely landed A. W. Van Wagner brought up in the rear with a four-in-hand, loaded down with a jolly crowd of mostly young folks, and the best of all, large baskets well filled with nice things to eat. Just imagine the broad grin that came over the face of E. M. Thompson at the sight of those baskets, as the storeroom of the Eight-Mile House was quite empty. At half-past 8 o'clock music struck up, which was furnished by Messrs. Alex. Case and P. H. Thompson of Reno. Dancing was freely indulged in until 12 o'clock when a delicious lunch was served. After the lunch, George Stokes rendered beautiful songs, which were heartily applauded. Dancing was again indulged in, and was kept up until a late hour, at which time the crowd departed having enjoyed themselves so well that they surely will have to repeat the occasion in the near future.

Gene to Reno.

The Eureka Sentinel of the 25th inst. says: "During the past week the boot and shoe establishment of the Tassell Brothers has been packed up and sent to Reno. These gentlemen have been doing business here for some years, and have given very general satisfaction to their patrons, as they are very liberal and correct business men. Owing to the great competition in their business, and dull times here, they concluded to remove to Reno, where they think the competition is not so great. We regret exceedingly to have these people remove away from us, but what is our loss will be Reno's gain. We bespeak a good word for the Tassell Brothers to the people of Reno."

The "Ivy Leaf" Company.

The San Francisco Post of the 18th inst. says: "The Bush-street is having a good run with a romantic Irish play called the Ivy Leaf, which gets its name from the fact that a leaf is used as a token to lure the heroine into trouble. There is a good deal of interesting work in the play, and the young comedian who has the leading role is the best of his class on the stage, not excepting Scanlan. There is plenty of good dancing in the piece, and some pleasant glances."

At the Nevada theater March 7th. Reserved seats at Davis & Son's cigar store, Commercial Row.

Princess Sarah Distinguishes Herself.

The Indians generally have a passion for gambling and the Princess Sarah is no exception to the rule. A Lovelock correspondent writes the Silver State that a few days ago she engaged in a game of casino at two dollars ante in which some pale faces took part. She undertook to take in a pot which she had not won, and a fight ensued in which the Princess was wounded. She is accused of using language more forcible than polite, hence the fight.
